46th Commencement Exercises

“Anchoring on Excellence: Producing Future Agents of Progress.”
Warmest greetings to the Batch 2014 of the PAMANTASAN NG LUNGSOD NG MAYNILA!

Today marks one of the high points in your journey of learning. Over the past few years, you have exerted every effort to excel in your academics, and to be part of extracurricular activities designed to enrich your learning experience. Your families, friends, teachers and school officials rightly share your joy in all you have achieved, and celebrate the promise of your future.

This year’s commencement theme, “Anchoring on Excellence, Producing Future Agents of Progress” underscores how far you have come as students, and soon as young professionals or entrepreneurs. You are the next generation of proud PLM alumni, products of a respected institution that has nurtured many of our current leaders in both the government and the private sector. And like those who came before you, you shall likewise be counted as future partners in the great task of nation building.

Binabati ko kayong lahat sa inyong pagtatapos. Nawa’y gabayan kayo ng ating Panginoon upang sa takdang panahon ay maging bahagi kayo ng makabagong henerasyon ng mga Pilipinong nagasisikap at nagpupunyagi para sa ikauunlad ng ating minamahal na lungsod at ng ating bansa.

Mabuhay ang kabataang Pilipino!

His Excellency JOSEPH EJERCITO ESTRADA
City Mayor
It is with great pleasure and privilege to extend my warmest greetings and congratulations to the graduating class of 2014 of the Pamantasan ng Lungsod ng Maynila.

Knowledge is the most important resource in today’s information-driven world. Therefore, investing in good education is investing in the future. It makes sense since it is advantageous and complementary to all concerned. It is good for the country since it generates economic investments and jobs and, more jobs equate to better opportunities for its citizens to improve their lives.

College graduation is both an end and a beginning of a new era of your life; a time to seriously focus attention to matters of great importance and relevance in order to meet the challenges of adult life. To you I convey my best wishes. But to succeed, you have to work hard, exercise discipline and practice prudence because by doing so, you are one step closer to the fulfilment of your lofty dreams and aspirations.

May I then enjoin you to thank the persons and institutions that help made what you are today. First, thank your parents and guardians for their support, assistance and encouragement. Next, your alma mater, for the skills, knowledge and wisdom it has imparted upon you. But most importantly, the Lord Almighty, for the inspiration, grace and blessings He has endowed. And the best way to repay them, is to succeed in your respective endeavours.

Now, go forth, and conquer the world! Godspeed!

Hon. FRANCISCO “ISKO MORENO” DOMAGOSO
Vice Mayor
There is no limit from that reservoir of goodwill when it comes to extending congratulations. The kind of feeling it evokes, however, could vary according to the one who expresses it and to whom it is given. We attach significance to our congratulations on this year’s graduation theme: Anchoring on Excellence: Producing Future Agents of Progress.

If there is a consensus of sentiment and vision among our stakeholders in this University, particularly the members of our academe and the members of the Board of Regents, it is no other than the overriding responsibility – the passion attached to it almost fanatical – to keep our school’s fealty to the temple of excellence with which its name has become synonymous.

Before, it could only be hoped that the excellent education and the high degree of competence that comes with it, our graduate would be imbued with a commitment that transcends the limits of human spirit to deliver Manila from the stagnancy that it does not deserve to progress that is its inheritance.

Today, there is novelty in our commencement exercise. This school’s very own, the Honorable Francisco “Isko” Domagoso, would be among the graduates. He will be conferred the honorary degree of Doctor in Humanities, in the area of community development, a fitting tribute to his achievements and excellent service to the city. There is no gainsaying that he personifies our theme. He is the role model for the rest of our graduates. In conferring the degree, the Board of Regents expresses a graduation address that will fill volumes of Pamantasan’s history as a school of present and future agents of progress. Congratulations and best wishes to Dr. Francisco Domagoso and to all the graduates!

Dr. AMADO D. VALDEZ, Esq.
Chairman, Board of Regents
I convey the heartfelt felicitations of our Caring University as new agents of progress have reached the zenith of their long academic journey today. Your graduation embodies more than the culmination of your academic pursuits. More importantly, it epitomizes our robust character as a nation whose outlook has been delicately fashioned to prioritize societal development over personal pleasure and to sacrifice individual aggrandizement in favor of the public good.

Deeply steeped in the virtue of excellence and armed with a profound understanding of the rudiments of life, your graduation today ushers you to a new life-long commitment - that of giving back to the community and becoming a channel of development for your fellowmen. Your vision is a better society. Your mission is to challenge your talents and skills and translate them into productive assets.

The door to new opportunities has just been opened, while the path to a brighter future has been paved for you. We wish you success as you begin a new journey, even as PLM’s transformational influence, through your scholarly education, will linger beyond as a beacon to guide you through.

In the end, the future shall measure you not according to the breadth of accumulated wealth, but by the essence of sacrifices you have offered and by the genuine efforts you have exerted in living up to the noble ideals of your alma mater.

God speed!

Dr. ARTEMIO G. TUQUERO
University President

"Anchoring on Excellence: Producing Future Agents of Progress."
My special greetings to all the graduates of Batch 2014!

This year’s theme Anchoring on Excellence: Producing Future Agents of Progress resonates well in today’s Philippine setting when rebuilding from the wrath of natural calamities and rising from the economic slump are the order of the day.

The coming months, even years, will mark a consequential transition from school work to a whole new world of professional work. Out there are potential leads if you venture correctly.

Imminent challenges may derail the attainment of your goals. Consider possible setbacks and looming difficulties that you have to grapple with on your way to success.

The University has consistently lived up to its avowed goal of nurturing future professionals with a kind of decisiveness to excel whenever and wherever life may lead you. Your mentors and school officials have imbued in you not just the skills and knowledge, but more so, the combined conviction to be catalysts of change that should redound to progress and prosperity not just for one’s self but for the nation, as well.

Let me therefore remind you to go on your way to your desired destination but with a high sense of responsibility to be competitive yet mindful of your roles as agents of transformation.

VIRGINIA N. SANTOS, Ed.D.
Executive Vice President
Commencement exercises will always be an event worth celebrating. A beginning of exploring possibilities that life has to offer. With the theme, “Anchoring on Excellence: Producing Future Agents of Progress”, your lives were molded according to the values reflective of eminence, perseverance and resilience. The aforementioned have guided you in your academic life. Nevertheless, it is expected that you will remain true to form and will ensure that in everything you do, your actions were executed with best effort; your desire is to produce an excellent output. But excellence is not merely measured on the grades you received or the number of achievements you have won. Excellence is determined by the positive impact of your output. The improvement of quality of life as you institute gradual changes.

On this occasion, you will receive your Diploma and you will be declared graduates. As you join the mainstream society, chances are you will be surprised with the challenges awaiting your career. Be steadfast. Remain focused. Distractions coming from internal thoughts and external forces may leave you disheartened. Becoming future agents of progress will surely take an intermittent pace. The rough edges along the journey may sound as a good reason to retreat. But remember that progress happens in anticipation of calculated risk. If you want progress to happen, think of progressive thoughts and act on progressive manner. My dear graduates, as you ponder on this message, I wish that all of you will have a successful career ahead. Congratulations!

Dr. OLIVER B. STA. ANA
Vice President for Academic Affairs
My sincerest salutation goes to all the school year 2014 graduates of our esteemed Pamantasan ng Lungsod ng Maynila. All the hard work, perseverance, and optimism finally paid off. Congratulations for this sweet victory!

This year’s commencement theme is but very opportune as each graduate, bearing a diploma in hand, sets out into the world to make a difference. The power that is in each and every one cannot be undervalued. Every person is gifted with a unique talent, skill, or knowledge. This gift was further honed over the years under the tutelage of teachers, fellow students and other mentors who altogether infused discipline, learning and wisdom that each graduate will now carry on to the next, larger phase of life.

Let this milestone further inspire everyone to take the bar even higher in pursuing different career paths. As products of Pamantasan, a center for excellence, carry on the mindset of a winner and make a mark in the society.

For this great accomplishment, I can proudly say, well done, Batch 2014 graduates! May the Lord be with you all!

ANGELITA G. SOLIS
Vice President for Finance and Planning
My warmest congratulations to the graduates of 2014!

I join you and your parents in the celebration of a significant milestone in your life’s journey. This event will usher you into another world full of challenges that would demand more of your time and energy.

Equipped with enough skills, coupled with the value of excellence in every task assigned you, there is no reason for you to falter to take the initial step into the next phase of your life – the highly competitive world of work.

In so doing, the true meaning of excellence would be tested. The essence of true excellence is not only seen nor heard but is felt by those with whom you share the best in you!

Continue with the journey to excellence!

ELSIA M. MARTINEZ
Officer-In-Charge
Office of the Vice President for Administration
This momentous event is the glorious height of the struggles fought hard, as well as the apt celebration of the victory impressively earned, as your drive to reach your dream draws to a close. By and large, it is a recognition of your indomitable spirit to pursue a professional career, through an excellent academic refinement, towards our common goal of transforming you into performing assets of the society.

Your alma mater beams with pride, in perfect harmony with your parents and loved ones, as it confers the rewards of your success. “You have won the battle and finished the race”, so the Biblical passage goes. The transfer of the “tassel” to the other side signifies your triumph over the “tussle” with the obstacles in that race. To the greater extent, it denotes your ability to face and hurdle the upcoming challenges yet to be posed by countless occupational hazards in the industry.

The current Administration’s high impact strategies, including meaningful external linkages, are designed to infuse more prestige to our institutional reputation. Significantly, this aims to benefit all alumni – the past and the future – in their quest for their rightful place under the sun, as stronger recognition shall be ascribed to them all over the globe.

Congratulations!

The senator finished his primary and secondary education at the Ateneo de Manila University and earned a degree in A.B. Economics from the University of the Philippines, Manila. He took up Bachelor of Laws at the Lyceum of the Philippines University while serving as Vice Mayor of then Municipality of San Juan at the age of 25. He was also bestowed a doctorate degree in Humanities (honoris causa) in 2007 by the Laguna State Polytechnic University in recognition of his academic excellence and socio-civic achievements as public servant.

In his early 20's, Senator Jinggoy, as he is fondly called, became a movie actor and eventually bagged acting awards from the Filipino Academy for Movie Art and Science (FAMAS). In 1999, he also became the host of the television public service program SaBAYAN, which has helped a number of Filipinos through his significant exposés.

In 1992, he became the youngest ever elected local chief executive in the country at age 29. During his incumbency, the Municipality of San Juan gained the reputation of being one of the most progressive municipalities and the most peaceful municipality in the Philippines.

For three (3) consecutive terms, he administered the economic, social, political and cultural affairs of his constituents beyond everyone's expectations. He spearheaded various projects and programs such as the following, among others: construction of modernized barangay halls with day care centers; repair and renovation of the now San Juan National High School and other public elementary schools, recreation centers like gymnasiums, basketball courts and playgrounds; establishment of different livelihood centers; improvement and replacement of drainages, concreting of municipal roads and construction of the 4-storey San Juan Medical Center and the San Juan Municipal Gymnasium.

During his final tenure as mayor, he was sworn into office as the National President of the League of Municipalities of the Philippines (1998-2001). He efficiently harnessed the potential of local government units (LGUs) as reliable partners of the national government in nation-building. During his stint, his initiatives secured the continuous empowering of LGUs and provided better service facilities to at least 1,525 municipalities.

As the eldest son of former President Joseph Marcelo Ejercito Estrada and former Senator Luisa Pimentel-Ejercito Estrada, it is not surprising that like his parents, the Filipino masses have a special place in the heart of Senator Jinggoy, along with siblings, Jacqueline Ejercito-Lopez and Jude Ejercito. In May 2004, the Filipino people gave the “anak ng masa” an official mandate to serve as Senator of the Republic of the Philippines. This gave him the chance to carry out his earnest desire to continue the pro-poor programs that his father has started and to pursue his commitment to address the problems besetting the country through just and meaningful legislation.
As the Chairman of the Senate Committee on Labor, Employment and Human Resources, the Senator is tasked with the study and deliberations on measures relating to labor; human resources development; maintenance of industrial peace; promotion of employer-employee cooperation; labor education, standards and statistics; organization of the labor market including recruitment, training and placement of workers and export of human resources; foreign workers in the Philippines; promotion and development of workers’ organization as well as employment-intensive technology. He also chairs the Congressional Oversight Committee on Labor and Employment (COCLE).

His other committee assignments include: accounts, agriculture and food, blue ribbon, energy, foreign relations, local government, national defense, public order, and illegal drugs, rules, peace, unification and reconciliation, urban planning, housing and resettlement, ways and means. He is the Vice Chairman on the Committee on Games, Amusement and Sports and the Committee on Public Information and Mass Media. He also serves as a member of the Commission on Appointments.

Of the 289 bills and resolutions he presented, 249 were primarily authored by him. His current priority bills are geared towards improving and strengthening the policies affecting work force and overseas foreign worker, empowering our local government units, protecting and preserving our freedom of expression and assembly, and promotion of youth welfare. At present, he ranks 4th among the list of senators with the most number of proposed legislations filed in the upper house.

Since his assumption to office, the Senator has delivered close to 20 privilege speeches on varied issues such as the constitutionally guaranteed rights on freedom of speech, expression and right to public assembly, anomalous transactions and operations of the Philippine Amusement and Gaming Corporation (PAGCOR), wire-tapping scandal, and abuses of power by the current administration.

Born on February 17, 1963, he married Ma. Presentacion “Precy” Vitug in 1989, with whom he is blessed with four wonderful and beautiful children, namely: Janella Marie, Joseph Luis Manuel, Julian Emilio and Julienne.

Born Joseph Marcelo Ejercito on April 19, 1937, in Tondo, Manila. He is the eighth of the ten children of Emilio Ejercito and Maria Marcelo. His upper-middle class family later moved to the wealthy suburb of San Juan, only to return to Manila later. He was a young adult when he stumbled upon an acting role and enjoyed the sense of escapism that acting provided him. Quickly proving his acting mettle, he opted to pursue a career in the movies in lieu of completing his education. His parents strongly opposed the decision and forbade him to use the family name. The fledgling actor took the screen name Joseph Estrada, the latter being the Spanish word for “street.” He also gave himself the nickname “Erap,” which, when spelled backwards, is a Spanish term for “pal”.

Over the course of his prolific film career, Estrada morphed into a major player in the Philippine movie industry, acting in more than 80 films and produced more than 70 movies. The multifarious roles he has played included, among others, a jeepney driver, labor leader, and a communist guerilla. Most of his portrayals were those of a poor man seeking justice. He received Best Actor and Best Film awards from the Filipino Academy of Movie Arts and Sciences (FAMAS) five times each, earning him spots in the FAMAS Hall of Fame in 1981 and 1984, respectively.

When he entered politics in 1967, his popularity with the audiences translated to garnering votes in the San Juan mayoralty elections. He served as duly-elected mayor for 17 years, during which time he focused largely on education and health care reform.

In 1972, he was adjudged one of the Ten Outstanding Young Men (TOYM) in Public Administration by the Philippine Jaycees. He was also voted Outstanding Mayor and foremost Nationalist by the Inter-Provincial Information Service in 1971 and awarded the coveted title “Most Outstanding Metro Manila Mayor” the following year by the Philippine Princeton Poll.
Known as the “Man for the Masses,” he is the founder and president of the ERAP Para sa Mahirap Foundation, a foundation that offers scholarship assistance to thousands of poor but deserving college students to earn a college degree. He also established the following, among others: San Juan Progress Foundation, San Juan Police and Fire Trust Fund, and the Friends of Joseph Estrada which offers free burial assistance for the poor folks of San Juan.

In 1987, the long-serving local chief executive became a national politician when he won a seat in the Philippine Senate. During his five-year stint as senator, he served as Chairman of the Committee on Rural Development and the Committee on Cultural Communities, as well as vice chair of the Committee on Health and Committee on Natural Resources and Ecology.

He was one of the so-called “Magnificent 12” who voted to terminate the RP-US Military Bases Agreement. In 1989, the Free Press cited him as one of the Three Outstanding Senators of the Year. He was conferred the degree of Doctor of Humanities (honoris causa) by the Bicol University in April 1997, and the University of Pangasinan in 1990.

After winning as Vice President in 1992, he was designated Presidential Adviser on Crime Prevention and Law Enforcement with a cabinet rank and served concurrently as Chairman of the Presidential Anti-Crime Commission that was responsible for the arrest of a number of high-profile criminals.

When he ran for President in 1998, his campaign centerpiece was on the same law-and-order platform he had earlier espoused. Estrada won the presidency by a phenomenal landslide against his closest rival. His administration improved the country’s tax collection system and worked towards demilitarizing the Philippine government.

His presidency was cut short when he took a leave of absence from Malacañan Palace in 2001 amidst the maneuverings of his political adversaries who filed charges against him to keep him at bay through a house arrest.

Following his release through an unconditional pardon, he concentrated on local humanitarian causes such as disaster-relief missions and programs that eradicate hunger to help the poor. In 2009, Estrada made a comeback in the film industry with an acting role in the movie, One and Only Family.

He ran for president again but came in second to Benigno Aquino III in the 2010 general elections. His political comeback came during the 2013 Philippine mid-term elections, when he and his running-mate, re-electionist Vice Mayor Francisco “Isko Moreno” Domagoso, were proclaimed Mayor-elect and Vice Mayor-elect, respectively, of the capital City of Manila.

In the field of public service which can sometimes have nebulous connotations, only a very few public servants have passed muster as far as perception of public satisfaction is concerned.

One of the very few is Vice Mayor Francisco M. Domagoso who is fondly called "Isko Moreno" by his adoring public. He has committed himself to selflessly serve his constituents with intense devotion and commitment.

His vision for the City of Manila is anchored on a program of Urban Renewal. In his office, he opened BOTIKA NI ISKO, a mini pharmacy wherein medicines and vitamins are given for free. He established ISCOM, a computer learning center located in various districts in Manila. His ISKOLAR NG BAYAN program provides free scholarships to poor but deserving students of Manila. Likewise, his TRABAHO PARA SA MANILEÑO project benefited thousands of Manileños with jobs here and abroad.

This intense commitment to his advocacies has prompted him to focus priority attention on his pet projects in the field of education, health and housing, among many others. He firmly subscribes to the belief that education is “the best antidote to poverty.” He doesn't merely mouth this mantra; instead, he goes about his daily tasks, striving harder every single day to find better ways to serve his constituents.

His latest task as Manila’s traffic czar, by virtue of Manila Mayor Joseph Estrada's full trust in him, has gained for him extraordinary mileage. Despite intense opposition, he proceeded to implement the new rules which resulted in a significant improvement of the city’s chaotic traffic conditions. He has thus earned another sobriquet on top of his informally bestowed “Champion of the Masses.” The path to righteousness is what he hews very closely to.
His spectacular rise to the esteemed halls of public service from truly humble beginnings is another classic case of that intense devotion to serve a public who expects public service to be truly inclusive, a goal that he intends to work very hard for. He has indeed poured his heart out to all his assigned tasks and as a firm but understanding leader he has, this early, earned himself an advance laurel wreath on his anointed forehead.

He is undeterred by political opposition and has plunged headlong into his duties with a conviction that has found few parallels, thus, earning for himself the People Asia Magazine’s “Ten Men Who Matter” and “2012 Most Outstanding Filipino in the Field of Public Service Award” by Gawad Amerika Foundation.

In recognition therefore of his distinguished public service and exemplary contribution to restoring Manila to its former glory as well as his quest for excellence in the work ethic of public servants, the Pamantasan ng Lungsod ng Maynila hereby confers upon the degree of

Doctor of Humanities (Community Development)
Honoris Causa

Done in the City of Manila on this 22nd day of April, 2014.

Dr. ARTEMIO G. TUQUERO
University President
Francisco “Isko Moreno” Domagoso came from a poor family in Tondo, Manila. A product of the Manila public school system, he graduated from the Rosario Almario Elementary School and Tondo High School. He earned his Bachelor of Science in Management degree from the International Academy of Management and Economics and is now in his sophomore year at the Arellano University School of Law.

In 1998, at the height of his showbiz career, Vice Mayor Isko Moreno started his political and public service advocacies. A 3-term councilor, he is now serving his last term as Vice Mayor of the City of Manila. He is also the incumbent President of the Vice Mayors’ League of the Philippines.

As councilor, he authored pro-poor ordinances and resolutions focusing mainly on education, health and medical care, and housing.

As presiding officer of the Sangguniang Panlungsod ng Maynila, he guided and steered the City Council to pursue a legislative agenda with the best interest of Manila and its citizens as its primordial consideration.

Vice Mayor Isko Moreno’s major public service initiatives are focused to help the poor and the needy. Perhaps, the Office of the Manila Vice Mayor is the only office in the Philippines with a mini-pharmacy. Called BOTIKA NI ISKO, medicines and vitamins are given for free. He established ISCOM, a computer learning center in 9 sites, which have graduated over 12,000 students. His ISKOLAR NG BAYAN project provides free scholarships to poor but deserving students. Through his TRABAHO PARA SA MANILEÑO program, thousands were provided with local and overseas jobs. And to bring these services closer to the people, district offices were established.

Through his efforts, a speech laboratory was set up at the Ramon Magsaysay High School; a computer laboratory was established at Mariano Marcos Memorial High School; and language laboratory will soon be put up at the Manila Science High School. These projects will enable both teachers and students to be more proficient in the English language and in Information Technology.
Upon invitation of the U.S. State Department, he participated in the International Visitors Leadership Program for U.S. Mayors and Local Government, held in Washington D.C., U.S.A., on July 7-25, 2011. Along with young legislators all over the world, they shared and discussed common concerns like population issues, waste management, education, health care and traffic.

On April 1-6, 2012, Vice Mayor Moreno attended the “Executive Education Program” of the John F. Kennedy School of Government at Harvard University. Moreover, he was accepted by the SAID Business School of the University of Oxford, England to join the Oxford Strategic Leadership Programme in November 2013. Likewise, the Russian Federal Agency invited him to visit Russia and participate in its “New Generation” program.

In recognition of his efforts and initiatives to improve the plight of millions of Manileños, Vice Mayor Moreno was cited by the People Asia Magazine as one of the “Ten Men Who Matter.” The list includes men of distinction from various fields and endeavors. Likewise, Gawad Amerika Foundation, a California-based aggregation of Filipino-Americans conferred on him its 2012 Most Outstanding Filipino in the Field of Public Service Award, in fitting ceremonies held in Hollywood, California.

At the start of the new city administration, Manila Mayor Joseph Ejercito Estrada embarked on a program meant to reclaim Manila’s lost glory. Vice Mayor Isko Moreno was appointed Manila traffic czar, the primary task of which is to install order and discipline in the streets of Manila.

Vice Mayor Isko Moreno’s vision for the City of Manila is anchored on a program of urban renewal. With him and Mayor Estrada at the helm of the City Government of Manila and with the continuous Grace of God, the inspiration and support of Manileños, the benevolence of benefactors together with the dynamism, dedication and responsible leadership and governance of its chosen leaders, Manila is well on its way to reclaim its old glory as the country’s premier city.

PANUNUMPA NG KATAPATAN

Ako’y mag-aaral na pinagpala ng Pamantasan ng Lungsod ng Maynila.

Sa aking pananagumpay sa pag-aaral, ako’y nanunumpang magtatapat sa mga adhikain, kapatiran, at aral ng aking Inang Pamantasan, upang mapatanyag ang kaunlaran, karunungan, at kadakilaan ng aking lahi at bayang pinakamamahal.

Itinatalaga ko rin ang aking sarili at buhay sa paglilingkod sa Dakilang Lumikha, na simula at hantungan ng lahat; sa aking mga mahal sa buhay at kaibigan at sa lahat ng kapwa ko at kapatid sa iisang Diyos Amang makapangyarihan sa lahat.

PAMANTASANG MAHAL

Pamantasang, Pamantasang Mahal
Nagpupugay kami’t nag-aalay
Ng pag-ibig, taos na paggalang
Sa patnubay ng aming isipan.

Karunungan tungo'y kaunlaran
Hinuhubog kaming kabataan
Maging Pilipinong mayro'ng dangal
Puso'y tigib ng kadakilaan.

Pamantasang'g Lungsod ng Maynila
Kaming lahat dito'y iyong punla
Tutuparin pangarap mo't nasa
Pamantasang kami'y nanunumpa.
Pamantasang kami'y nanunumpa.
